When meeting with us you may receive two types of advice, general advice and/or personal advice.

When you receive personal advice, you will receive a Statement of Advice (SoA). An SoA will:

- explain the advice and the basis of the advice provided;
- provide information about remuneration (including commissions) and;
- disclose any associations or relationships that could potentially influence us or your financial adviser, in providing that advice.

If you received further advice, you may also receive a Record of Advice (RoA). Copies of all advice documents will be kept on record and you may request a copy of these records at any time during the seven-year period after the date the SoA or further advice was provided by contacting your adviser.

General advice is based on the consideration of the investment merits of a product without taking into consideration whether the product is suitable for you personally. Such advice will be accompanied by a general advice warning referring to this.

Remuneration

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns?

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2.0% of your account balances rather than 1.0% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. Your employer may be able to negotiate to pay lower administrative fees.

Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of fees based on your own circumstances see the ASIC Money Smart website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a Managed Investment fee calculator to help you check out the different fee options.

Fees and other costs

This document shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the Managed Investment Scheme as a whole.

Taxes and Insurance costs are set out in a separate part of this document.

Initial Financial Advice Fee:

You may be charged an upfront financial planning service fee based on either

- The complexity of the strategies and advice,;
- time spent preparing your SoA (or other advice document); or

- the value of the funds you choose to invest.

This fee will be a flat fee and may be invoiced or paid through a product depending on your preference. The agreed fee will be payable when you are provided with your SoA or another advice document.

Our initial advice fees can range from $1,650 to $11,000.

Ongoing Financial Advice Fee:

You may enter into an Ongoing Service Agreement with us. The agreement is an arrangement that may cover items such as ongoing portfolio management, review meetings and reports, investment administration and unlimited contact with your financial adviser. You and your financial adviser should discuss the services to be included and the fee that you will pay either before, or at the time, you are presented with your SoA.

Your advice documents will contain full details of any fees and charges that are payable.

Any of these payments listed above will be charged by us as agreed with you or as permitted by law.

Our ongoing advice fees can range from $1,100 to $33,000 per annum.

If the remuneration (including commissions) or other benefits are calculatable at the time we give you the personal advice, it will be disclosed to you at the time it is given or as soon as practicable after that time. If the remuneration (including commissions) or other benefit cannot be calculated at the time we provide you with personal advice, it will be disclosed to you as soon as practicable.

You should read all the information about fees and costs
